America's scoop-noosed master of the boffo scanned a fussy little tug, name of Scamp, chuffing down Vic-toria's inner-harbor.

He observed to the seagulls, the press, and deckhands of the luxury yacht Campana which fetched him here from Seattle Wednesday, "In my honor, I suppose. . . But how did they know I was coming?"

Bob Hope, on stage or off, is a funnyman. Always warm — "I like the air, I like the town, I like the people." Frequently wistful—"Boy, it's beautiful here today!"—But never hurtful. "Sick" humor isn't Hope humor. He gets his laughs without making anyone bleed.

Looking fresh and rested after sleeping his way into Victoria, the English - born entertainer stepped out to an afterdeck flooded with the best sunshine the town has seen in a week.

Quebec victory Social Credit proclaims itself the wave of the future. But it is a wave split in three segments, one apparently-strong, two weak. Mr. Caouette delivered 26 Quebec seats to the party last month. Mr. Thompson, the national leader, delivered only two in Alberta. Mr. Bennett could do no better in British Columbia.

This contrast between eastern strength and western weakness, however, is only the outer aspect of Social Credit's inward division.

The western Social Crediters, or least the more sensible among them, are appalled by the views of Mr. Caouette and his Quebec converts. Mr. Manning, undoubtedly the ablest figure in the party and a man who has long since thought this way through the Social Credit fallacy, says that he is frightened by some of the news from French Canada. In a recent speech obviously beamed at Mr. Caouette, the Alberta premier warned the newly-elected Social Credit members of Parliament not to promise impos-sibilities but to act responsibily, as they have not acted up to now.

No wonder Mr. Manning is disturbed. Having given Alberta sane, businesslike and somewhat conservative government, he hears Mr. Caouette promise to give Canada government by unlimited inflation and cash hand-outs to everybody. To an experienced administrator like Mr. Manning this must sound like sheer lunacy. He there-fore gingerly undertakes to tame Mr. Caouette where, apparently, Thompson, the national party leader, has failed.

It may require more than the combined resources of Messrs. Manning and Thompson to deal with Mr. Caouette in the moment of his euphoria. And there is another complication in the third segment of Social Credit.

Mr. Bennett regards Mr. Caouette as the great white hope of the party, his own first choice for its leadership and now demonstrably a successful vote-getter-altogether

> How and whether the three wings of Social Credit can be made to flap together remains to be seen but certainly Mr. Thompson has his work cut out for him. He is happy to see Socia! Credit gain in the east but he knows that the excesses of his partner there are calculated to damage him in the west. Not only he and Mr. Manning but the western public generally are frightened of Mr. Caouette.

> Mr. Thompson's immediate strategy, though paradoxical, is plain enough. He wants time to unify his divided party and prepare for an election. Therefore, he intends to keep the Diefenbaker gov-ernment in office for some time, at least until next spring, even at the expense of supporting in Parliament a policy which he condemns on the platform. There may be a fatal flaw in this timetable as Mr. Thompson himself admits.

> He attacks as folly the government's maintenance of so-called "tight money"—that is to say, its reluctance to continue the inflation which already has drastically reduced the value of the Canadian dollar. But he is prepared to support even this folly, as he sees it, provided no other party in Parliament moves a no-confidence vote against it. If such a motion is moved Social Credit will be bound in honor to vote for it and destroy the government.

Perhaps after all Mr. Thompson is not taking a serious risk for the time being. No such motion may be moved by the Liberal or New Democratic parties. If so, Mr. ON the question of a tax cut, with 1961 was going to peter out before it Thompson may be able to keep thegovernment on ice until he is ready to destroy it but that will not be easy so long as Mr. Caouette is ravening for the kill and preaching doctrines repugnant to Social Credit's English-speaking wings in Alberta and British Columbia. As Mr. Manning clearly sees, the wave of that are left before the future may break on the reef

Softening Hitler's Outline

TT IS NEARLY 40 YEARS SINCE Hitler's abortive "beer hall putsch." It is nearly 30 since he became chancellor, amid the antisemitic beatings of Charlottenburg. It is little more than 20 since the Nazis' mass extermination of Jews sickened decent peoples of the world. It is about 17 years since he died in his bunker amid the wreckage of his Reich.

These are stages in the development and destruction of an evil which older people cannot forget. But as the years pass, it becomes some younger people, apparent either hoodlums in South American sprouts, or youth of West Germany, do not know the story, are unaware of its degrading details or are puzzled by the assumed willingness of their elders to have followed such a mad man. In Montevideo this week four young hoodlums beat into uncon-sciousness and then branded with swastikas an Argentine Jew. In Bonn the government found it necessary to dissolve the National Youth Federation, the biggest and most dangerous extreme right-wing youth organization in the country -an organization dedicated to the revival of the "great German Reich" on a racial basis.

Nor were these the only disturbing components of a re-emerging pro-Hitlerite spirit. A new book, compiled by a West German school teacher and intended to prove "that the fuhrer wasn't as bad as all si that," sold out its entire first edition following its exhibition at the recent Frankfurt Book Fair.

The book, according to one commentator, has been written to explain to the children of Germany why their parents accepted, or fol-lowed the dictator. "Hitler," wrote its author, "built the autobahns and arranged holidays by ship for workers. They were people who could think for themselves and weren't easily moved or fooled by the emotional phrases of a political evangelist. a diplomatic way to let him know—was graphically illustrated a week after, the election when Dietenbaker appeared on a netion-wide TV hool-up to explain his austerity program.

His customary saluation, "My fellow Canadians," lacked its usual conviction, but there were no other signs that he had changed his methods. His speech was larded with patriotic phrases ("Ca nadians have faith in their country we have faced great difficulties in the past"), topped by his starry-eyed, declaration that things would right themselves "as soon as the morning sun will rise." What he meant was "as sure as the morning sun," etc. But even that would have been no improve-ment to the young sophisticates.

Rather than such phrases they want clear, sensible explanation of a given situation. What they got from Diefenbaker in that TV appearance was a glossing over of the crisis the evidently couldn't bring himself to mention the hundreds of millions in foreign aid Canada required) by an unconvincing call to patriotism and sacrifice not many days after he had done his best to give the impression all was well.

Outdated

This could serve only to confirm their feeling that he was not "with it" and was still trying to get by on outdated and very square political legerde-main—like his phrase "they said it couldn't be done," which he used dur-ing the campaign to describe the Conservative answer to almost every political question

The second major Diefenbaker error was in his appeal to the so-called ethnic vote. If in any of his campaign speeches he left out his ethnic pitch, with variations on the Bill of Rights theme, he was sure to mention it with puble emphasis in the next speech. This goes for his fellow Tory campaigners, too.

His energetic seeking-out of people who were non-white or non-Anglo-Saxon was conspicuous. One observer was moved to note, after one day of this, that it was a red-letter day for any dark-skinned person who happened to be within hand-shaking distance of the prime minister.

U.S. TAX CUT

A Stitch to Save Nine

which the president is now wres-tling, the undecided issue is whether to ask for it this summer or to wait until next winter. The issue is as yet undecided for one reason only. There is some doubt whether, in the few weeks adjournment, the chairmen of the two key committees, Rep. Mills and Sen. Byrd, will allow Congress to vote. The significant thing about their veto is that almost certainly the two chairmen will not have it next winter. For by that time, if, as it now seems protable, our sluggish economy has begun to geede, tax reduction will go through Congress by acclamation.

The chance of a Mills-Byrd veto this ummer, which is what causes the president to hesitate, is primarily due to the fact that as yet recession is only indi-cated and is not yet being experienced. Can the president induce Congress to act can the president induce Congress to act to prevent a recession, or are we doomed to wait for a recession and then try to reverse it? The fundamental question is whether we have a government which can act with foresight, which can take the stitch in time that will save nine.

went much further. There had been a very few who had predicted this last January when the administration, using what had proved to be erroneously opti mistic estimates,, adopted a restrictive and deflationary fiscal policy.

The unfounded optimism ended a few days after the crash. The business re-ports which have come in during June and the first half of July show that with a few exceptions automobile sales and residential construction, the recovery is sluggish and is slowing down. Employment and industrial activity, profits, inventory replacement and capital investment are so sluggish that the recovery appears to be nearing its end. At Least Six Rings

I think if you would print this letter it might be a help to many people who phone and get no reply. Frequently in the past weeks I have raced into the house from outside on hearing the phone only to arrive after it rang off after at most four rings. Even from the far corner of a moderately sized house it is hard to reach the phone.

I would suggest that when phoning, if you really want to contact the other party, you give at least six rings, thus giving time for someone to reach the phone. Regarding medicare, the Saskatche wan doctors have always expressed a desire to negotiate their differences desire to negotiate their differences with the government, and it would seem that some of the opinions expressed at a distance are not placing the blame for the controversy in the proper place.

The doctors naturally do not consider themselves as being a union or on strike; and the manner in which they strike; and the manner in which they have arranged for emergency care and attempted to deal with the government clearly supports their contention. How

OTTAWA-Prime Minister Diefenbaker's: ecision to open Canada's doors to 100 fami-es of Chinese refugees in Hong Kong did little if anything to win the Chinese Cana-dian vote for the Conservatives in the recent

Douglas Jung, the only Chinese Canadian ever to sit in Parliament, was defeated by Chinese votes in Vancouver Centre. Furthermore, the PM's move did not impress those whose humanitarian feelings were aroused by the plight of the thousands of Chinese who slipped acre the border into Kowloon and the New Territories dur-ing May. The figure Diefenbaker plucked out of the air was too small—actually only a token figure.

Chinese Canadians no doubt were ex-Chinese Capadians no doubt were ex-pected to hail the PM's gesture, but in fact they felt more resentment than grafitude. They do not want Chinese families picked at random for entry into Canada; they want their own sons, wives and daughters to get into this country. And they go to extra-ordinary lengths outside the law to engineer

The 100-family plan has made many Chinese-Canadians apprehensive that somehow it may lengthen the time they have to wait for the admission of their kin.

The way things have turned out, both the concern of the humanitarians to have more refugees admitted and the concern of the government to avoid admitting a flood of refugees have been wasted. The Oriental wetbacks have gone into hiding in the war rens of Hong Kong, fearing deportation by the British authorities if they identify themselves. The Canadian offer to take 100 families has been publicized in the Hong Kong Chinese language press for two months, yet only some 25 families have been authenticated as recent refugees and approved for entry into Canada.

The reason is that the Chinese who slipped into Hong Kong are not political refugees like the Hungarians of 1956. Rather, they are economic refugees. They left China not because they are strongly saffected towards the Communist regime but because they believed they would have fuller bellies in Hong Kong. And in Hong Kong most of them are satisfied to stay.

If the prime minister had thought out his move more carefully, he would have admitted, say, 1,000 relatives of Chinese almost in Canada. Their departure from Hong. ready in Canada. Their departure from Hong Kong would nave eased the population pres-sure there, making room for 1,000 new arrivals from China.

And for the humanitarians, 1.000 is a much more substantial figure than 100 fami-lies. On a per capita basis, it would be more titan the Americans are doing by admitting up to 5,000 Hong Kong Chinese (not refu-

It is not too late for the PM to amend his policy on the ground of the difficulty of at-tracting recent refugees. And the relatives of Chinese-Canadians with their Hong Kong urbanity would be much more readily as-similable in Canada than unknown country cousins from the villages of south China.

And if not on humanitarian grounds, then on practical grounds; a policy like this would win the gratitude of Chinese Canadian families affected by it. It might not help much with those families whose relatives might still be queued up when, the quota had been exhausted—but as the PM learned June 18, you can't win 'em all.

The aim, Miss Linden exlained, is to "pull away from gravity" and acquire a sensation of weightlessness similar to that experienced by the astronauts.

Most people, she added, make the mistake of trying to stretch like a cat. They are unable to do this because "the process of evolution is incomplete," she said. I don't know what Miss Linden meant by that. In fact, I'm not even certain that I'm quoting her correctly.

During my interview with her, Miss Lin-den illustrated certain points by stretching her limbs and torso this way and that. Miss Linden wore a tight-fitting dress. Such ditions are not conducive to note-taking.

Recently, she has been giving lectures on stretching to inmates in the District of Columbia jail. Several prisoners have written testimonials describing the stretches as the nex: best thing to a writ of habeas corpus.

If she and gravity remain on good terms, she will, soon publish a second book called "How to Make Your Muscles Sing." It also VICTORIANS can look forward to more of the current cool, dreary weather for the next 30 days. Long range weather forecast for the Pacific Coast, above, predicts above normal precipitation and below normal temperatures. It appears that surges of cool, moist air will continue to work down the coast from vast centre of low pressure in Gulf of Alaska, One thing is certain—don't count on any of that sizzling beach weather.

SCHOOL FIRES BRITISH NAZI

COVENTRY, Eng. (AP) The school governors of the Coventry School where Britain's post-war Nazi leader Colin Jordan is teach-ing, decided today to fire at the end of the Christmas term.

Until then, the governors decided. Jordan would be suspended from teaching.

The decision was taken after Jordan addressed a public meeting in London's Trafalgar Square July The meeting broke out in rioting and arrests after Jordan and his supporters spoke against the Jews and said: "Hitler was right."

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

They buried Jim Rogan last week. The service took place on a hill at the rear of 482 Sparton Road, Jim Rogan was 37, six months shy of 38, on Friday, July 13, the day he was indifinal sleep by a veterinarian's needle. July 13, the day he was induced into his Little Jimmy was not the best horse ever bred in B.C. Nor the fastest. At 14.2 hands he may have been the smallest. But those who knew him and those who watched him run stoutly claim that no thoroughbred, regardless of lineage or size, had a bigger heart.

He was one half of a legend. The other half is Mrs. Jessie MacKenzie, 89, the first woman in North America to be licensed as a trainer.

They first met, the horse and the woman, on an August morning in 1925 at the old Willows racetrack in Victoria. Mrs. MacKenzie had bred her mare, Squash, to a stud

Two weeks before the mare was due to drop her foal, Mrs. Mac called in the late Dr. W. J. McKeon. He examined the mare carefully and decided she was

Two weeks later a tiny colt was born. Jim Rogan.

Wobbly-legged and uncertain, he followed his mother every-where. When it appeared that Squash couldn't take care of her offspring. Mrs. Mac and others tried to wean him off with special milk. He would have none of it. He was independent even then. But he finally surrendered his mother's side for Mrs. Mac's loving care.

The Horse That Got Christmas Presents

When she first brought him to a starting post as a two-year-old, the starter looked at him and said: "Whose mother's baby are you?

From that day in 1927 to 1942 nobody ever scoffed at n Rogan's size. Or his ability. He was in the money times: . . 25 wins, 48 seconds, 33 thirds. Fast track or muddy strip, five furlongs or a mile and a quarter he ran

The sands are running low for Mrs. Mac. Arthritis has left her hands twisted. And her heart doesn't tick as arongly as it did when she was a dramatic actress or when at the rail and called: "Come on, Jimmy!"

She doesn't receive many visitors any more. Not at Christmas anyway. That's when they used to come—to see Jimmy more than me. They would bring him presents—carrots and sugar and oats—people I had never met. They had seen him run and loved him as I did and they hadn't forgotten.

She sat there on an old chesterfield, bundled in a dress and sweater and wrap-a-round coat against the cold of old age and talked about Jimmy—the oldest thoroughbred in America until last Friday.

'What's the Board Say? . . . Hi'ya People'

"You want to know about Jimmy." she said. "Remember when you came to see me three years ago? You asked me what makes a good trainer. I told you intelligence and understanding. All the horses I had were different. But they all responded to kind handling. None, of course, more

Her grey eyes still not in need of spectacles after 89 summers-came alive.

"Near the end of his career he was a character. Wouldn't parade to the post with the others. He used to walk up and look at the odds board. Then he would turn and face the grandstand, nodding all the way along the rail.

'He was a stud until he was four. But he had a habit of savaging any horse that tried to pass. I was afraid someday he would miss and take a piece of a jockey's leg. So I had him altered. Even after that he would still go for a horse that tried to go by him. Jimmy liked to run and he liked to win."

Her smile thinned. "Two weeks ago I knew something was wrong. Went right off his feed. He liked the warm sun on his back so I let him run in the pasture for a few days. He seemed to improve some.

"Last Friday when I went in his stall he talked to me. Oh, I know horses don't talk. But after 37 years Jimmy and I communicated. He always had something to say the morning. And when I left it was the same—he hate same-he hated to see me go. I offered him some carrots but he hardly

They're Close ... Until It's Time to Go_

"I turned around to do something. That's when he fell."
She hunched forward. "Four times he tried to get up.
Each time he couldn't make it. Until then I'd hoped foolishly, I guess, but old ladies are entitled to some foolishness, aren't they?—that he would come back—all the way back. But I saw he wouldn't. Never.

"I didn't want him shot. I've seen too many done away with that way. So I called this vet Dr. Olsen. He came and gave Jimmy a needle. And that was it. Where was he buried?

She stood up, walked across to a window and parter curtains.

Up there on the hill. Right beside his full sister

Tuscalotta. It's a beautiful spot. She let the curtains fall.

"Already some people have come to see me. And Jimmy. They went up there. They wanted to say 'good bye.' I feel better now than I did last Fiday. But I guess it won't ever be the same at Christmas anymore. The people coming with their presents, and all.

"Just having him close by helps. From the day he was born to the day he died I was always near him. I may

End of your first pack... welcome to the club

You have undoubtedly found that State Express 555 Filter Kings are almost a half inch longer than regular cigarettes. In fact, there isn't a longer cigarette in Canada. You were probably more than pleasantly surprised to find that 555's smoked a little cooler and gave you a taste that is richer, smoother and noticeably more rewarding.

We found that certain tobaccos were particularly well suited to this new continental king-size length. These we reserved for State Express 555 Filter Kings. Then we added a superb filter and the world famous State Express manufacturing techniques. In combination they give you an elegant cigarette of outstanding quality.

A cigarette, however, is a personal thing-and if you haven't tried State Express 555 Filter Kings, pick up a carton and . . . join the club.

of Freedom Doukhobor terrorists will be given privileges only if they work for them at the new federal penitentiary being built near Agassiz, in British Columbia's Fraser Valley.

And they will be granted parole only if they show a willingness to conform to Canadian law.

These principles were laid down by federal officials Wednesday at a meeting here with the Kootenay Boundary Citizens Committee on Doukhobor Affairs.

The meeting was attended by Commissioner of Penitentiaries A. J. MacLeod, T. George Street, chairman of the National Parole Board, and warden Tom Tom Hall of the B.C. Penitentiary at New Westminster.

Committee members said all

Committee Chairman T. A.

McRae of Rossland suggested the best charice for reform would be relocation of the prisoners on their release. They could be supervised and controlled if they were relocated on parole.

The press release said another meeting between the committee and the justice department will be held in the near future.

BUNKHOUSE BOMBED

NELSON — Police said Wednesday home-made incendary bombs destroyed a CPR bunk-house at Winlaw and a barn in Appledale was distroyed by a deliberately set fire.

Officers said they believed the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect was responsible for the Tuesday night attacks.

CUSTOMERS WELL-DRESSED VANCOUVER—A 54-year-old widow and a 19-year-old cashier widow and a 19-year-old cashier were charged Wednesday with operating a daytime bawdy house for well-dressed businessmen. Lillian Charland, the widow, and Sharalann Gibson, formerly of Edmonton, were remarded for five days when they appeared in police court. Bail was set at $1,000 each.

The two women and two men were arrested in a police raid on a Robson Street rooming house Tuesday.

The two men. a 47-year-old heating contractor and a 35-year-old surgeon, were charged as found-ins. They failed to appear in court and forfeited $16 bail each.

bail each.

Police said they raided the rooming house after noting that an unusual number of well-dressed men visited it during business hours. The men appeared to be executive types, detectives said.

NO SALVAGE

VANCOUVER—The sunken dredge W. G. Mackenzie will probably be abandoned on the bottom of Queen Carlotte Sound. Her owners say the risks are too great to salvage the $2,000,000 dredge, which sank Monday off Egg Island, 260 miles northwest of here.

ARTHUR MAYSE

Beneath the surface of Medicare in Saskatchewan flow undercurrents which we would do well to mark. One I have in mind is the chipping away of personal freedom which has already driven an estimated 100 doctors from the prairie province and must inevitably drain it of its best, because inde-pendent-minded practioners.

I think Saskatchewan will I think Saskatchewan will be a long time recovering from this assault on a professional group, the first concerted move of its kind in our national history. If it succeeds, the people will learn at first hand the drawback of assembly line media. learn at first hand the draw-backs of assembly-line medi-cine. They may also find that the partial vacuum left by free doctors whose cir-cumstances permit them to depart out of Egypt draws in time servers and semi-competents who have fared poorly in private practice. poorly in private practice.

Please don't leap to the conclusion that I hold any special brief for doctors as a professional elite. In the matter of their modified "strike," they have behaved with all-but-incredible stupidwith all-but-incredible stupto-ity, tossing away public sym-pathy and plunging them-selves into a trap from which any union organizer would have steered them-Policemen and firemen she more sense; but then, they have the benefit of more astute public relations coun-selling than the medical profession seems able to provide for itself.

In consequence, a good many of us are being thor: oughly titivated these days by the spectacle of the whale harpooned, the mighty hum-bled.

This, of course, is short-range thinking, the sort that can boomerang. As John Donne warns us, with an as-sist from Hemingway some centuries later, "Never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." Your craft, or mine, could next find itself being tenderized in Premier Lloyd's highly efficient pressure cooker.

What concerns me is that Individuals comprising a seg-ment of the Canadian community are being prodded, bullied and threatened into a course not of their choosing. They will, by compulsion, be-come civil servants, governnent their paymaster.

Reluctantly, the Saskat-chewan provincial govern-ment has agreed to provide a safety valve. At the moment it would appear that the doctor wishing to remain outside the scheme may be allowed to do so, either by order-in-council or more formal legislation.

Then why my fuss and feathers? They do it that way in England, don't they, and England since Magna Carta has been the prime champion of man's "right to live by no man's leave, underneath the law."

True. But the British Labor Party with exempt-ed reluctant medicos from the national health service is not Canada's New Democratic party. The one maintains a certain blundering integrity which the other may or may not display.

I do not like thee, Doctor Fell . . . not in your club anyway. But I like your antagonist very much less. As an unreconstructed oldliner who has observed the CCF from Regina Manifesto through its doubtful marriage with a trade-union bloc, I suggest that in thispromise of exclusion, you may be buying a placebo.

The nature of the government proposed agent — an order in council — is itself suspect. We had plentiful experience with orders in council — is itself suspect. cil during the last war, when they were employed by Ottawa as an unfortunate but necessary means of getting things done in a hurry.

Except by Saskatchewan, though, we've largely been spared this jumping of democracy's ignition system in recent years. Another point to ponder about orders-incouncil: when they've served their purpose, they can be swept under the carpet with utmost ease.

I'm not a professional viewer-with-alarm, just a man who believes (remember Munich?) that one aggression leads to another, with the muzzling of communication media and courts as an ultimate necessity for any cropheaded parliament.

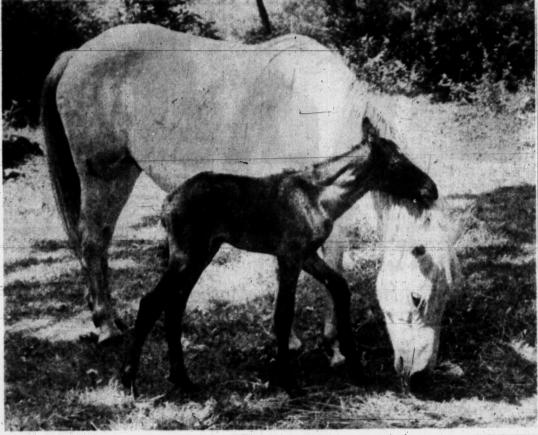

So while I'm still a free-running dog for the capitaleestic press, let me stand to Transit Issue Dead?

Committee Inactive Since Bennett Offer Withdrawn

The public transit crisis—which recently had Greater Victoria's civic leaders boiling for months apparently has evaporated quietly.

Mayor R. B. Wilson today admitted a special "summit" committee set up to handle the treaded prob-lem has not met for almost two months and has no meeting scheduled.

It has cooled off since Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced almost two months ago that he was withdrawing an offer—considered an ultimatum by some—to sell the rolling stock to the municipalities for $1. He also indicated the government would continue the service.

Never At Loss for Words With Handy Dictionary

By Penny Saver

Women aren't supposed to be ever at a loss for words, but when you are in a foreign country, sometimes this calamity is inescapable. Unless, of course, you follow Penny's advice and buy a pocket dictionary which contains 25,000 words—surely enough to help you out of most difficulties encountered in a strange land.

They dictionaries can be bought which give equivalents of English words in either French, German, Italian or Spanish, and even reverse this process in half of the book in case your and even reverse this process in half of the book in case your French becomes so fluent you can't remember your English!

In cack are handy sections giving local idioms, dialogues you might find helpful, geographical names in case you are lost, and, most important, bills of fare in case you are hungry!

Each dictionary is priced at just $1.25 and comes bound in smart hide cover made in England.

Travellers will also find handy, brushes made from a foam rubber material that has a remarkable affinity for lint.

One long brush is priced at $1.25 but you can buy a set of three brushes for $2.95. This includes a small green brush labelled "handbag," a long one for your dresser, in white; and an in-between size for your glove compartment.

You'll probably feel happier in your travels if you have with you a compact travel iron so you may decrease your clothes whenever you "ish! One model which has fold-down handle and detachable cord, is only 4x7 inches on its bottom surface. Price is reasonable at $4.95.

More expensive model, but one with a heat dial to prevent over-enthusiastic ironers from scorching everything and truly decreasing their wardrobe, is smaller still. Its cord wraps around the handle. Bottom surface is barely 3x5 inches. Iron comes in plastic zippered case, sells for $11.50.

Thinking of travelling soon? Call Penny at 382-3131 for name of store which has these items.

Adjustment of Seam Should Cure Fleat on Slack Front

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

Dear Mrs. L.O.M.

This seems to be one of the most common faults in the shorts or slacks most women make. This is caused by the "crotch" seam being too long. I have found that unless you have a pair of shorts that fit you, which you can measure and use as a guide, it is best to cut the crotch seam higher (as illustrated). If you cut the back and front crotch seam back and front crotch seam about 1" higher, it will usually be high enough for most women if it is cut too high, you can salways lower the cutting line, but if it is cut too

THE NEW IDEA IN LATEX Semi Gloss finish!

Semi-Gloss is the ideal finish for trim and doors. Latex is the ideal paint. Now Bapco has coupled the qualities of each to bring you a revolutionary new product. No more leaving the windows open for hours until the sash dries. No more messy clean-up chores. When you use a flat Latex paint on ings, here's the matching paint for trim.

BATHROOMS AND KITCHENS

Enamel finish in Latex paint!

Semi-Gloss chamel is the popular finish today for bathroom and kitchens. With Bapco semigloss Latex you get a satin-lustrous enamel-like finish with all speed and ease of application you have come to expect from a Latex paint. Goes on with brush or roller. No brush marks, no lap marks.

DRIES IN TWENTY MINUTES

Use your room the same day!

No more waiting hours for the trim to dry. You get just time for a cup of coffee after you paint with Bapco semi-gloss Latex. Then start right in to move the furniture back. And, best of all, no unpleasant paint odour.

COLORS GALORE

Created by Faber Birren for Westerners!

Bapco are rushing exciting Faber Birrenstyled colors into production. Colors that match Bapco's velvet flat Latex finish. Colors that stay bright and new - washable colors that don't have to be babied. After the new paint has cured for as little as two weeks you can remove finger marks or smudges as easily as you would wash a window.

NO MESSY CLEAN-UP

Water does the trick!

As you would expect from a Latex paint the final job of cleaning up is made simple. Just a swish under the tap for brush or roller and they come out as clean as a whistle.

THE NEW IDEA IN PORCH & PATIO PAINT

A new Bapco formulation that gives you all the advantages that you have come to expect in Latex, plus the performance you have been looking for in a Porch & Patio paint. Now here is THE PAINT for porches, walk-ways, steps, patios, basement floors and for any other cement area that's going to get traffic.

GAY COLORS TO WALK ON

Faber Birren has done it again!

Bapco's famous New York color consultant has created new colors for this wonderful new paint. Gay colors that you would expect to find on a color card for interior Latex. Glowing terra cotta, light-hearted shades of green and cool greys...and all the sun, snow and driving rain won't wash away their

MAKES THE JOB EASIER Flows on with brush or roller!

Because Bapco Porch and Patio paint is Latex it goes on smoother, quicker - without a trace of brush mark or lap. No sticky drag to slow you down or tire you. Less surface preparation than with ordinary paints. And no chore to the clean-up. A quick rinse under the tap for brush or roller is all that's required.

DRIES WHILE YOUR LOOKING AT IT No wet paint signs required!

No barricades either. Bapco Porch & Patio paint dries in less than an hour. Before the dust and bugs have time to find your new paint job. Bapco Porch & Patio paint is set. In a couple of hours you can walk all over it.

TRY THIS NEW PAINT THIS WEEK-END You're Bapco dealer has it!

ARTHUR MAYSE

Beneath the surface of Medicare in Saskatchewan flow undercurrents which we would do well to mark. One I have in mind is the chipping away personal freedom which has already driven an estimated 100 doctors from the prairie province and must inevitably drain it of its best, because inde-pendent-minded practioners.

I think Saskatchewan will to this assault on a pro-fessional group, the first concerted move of its kind in our national history. If it succeeds, the people will learn at first hand the drawbacks of assembly-line medi-cine. They may also find that the partial vacuum left by free doctors whose circumstances permit them to depart out of Egypt draws in time servers and semi-competents who have fared poorly in private practice.

Please don't leap to the conclusion that I hold any special brief for doctors as a professional elite. In the matter of their modified "strike," they have behaved with all-but-incredible stupidates are considerable to the control of the control o ity, tossing away publid sym-pathy and plunging them-selves into a trap from which any union organizer would have steered them. Policemen and firemen show more sense; but then, they have the benefit of more astute public relations coun-selling than the medical profession seems able to provide

In consequence, a good many of us are being thoroughly titivated these days by the spectacle of the whale harpooned, the mighty hum-

This, of course, is shortrange thinking, the sort that can boomerang. As John Donne warns us, with an asbonne warns us, with an as-sist from Hemingway some centuries later, "Never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." Your craft, or mine, could next find itself being tenderized in Premier Lloyd's highly efficient pressure cooker.

What concerns me is that individuals comprising a seg-ment of the Canadian community are being prodded, bullied and threatened into a bullied and threatened into a course not of their choosing. They will, by compulsion, be-come civil servants, government their paymaster.

Reluctantly, the Saskat-chewan provincial government has agreed to provide a safety valve. At the mo-ment, it would appear that the doctor wishing to remain outside the scheme may be

way in England, don't they, and England since Magna Carta has been the prime -champion of man's "right to live by no man's leave, underneath the law."

True. But the British Labor Party which exempted reluctant medicos from the national health service is not Canada's New Demo-cratic party. The one main tains a certain blundering integrity which the other may or may not display.

I do not like thee, Doctor Fell . . . not in your club any-way. But I like your antagonist very much less. As an unreconstructed oldliner who has observed the CCF from Regina Manifesto through its doubtful mar-riage with a trade-union bloc, I suggest that in this promise of exclusion, may be buying a placebo.

The nature of the govern ment-proposed agent — an order in council — is itself-suspect. We had plentiful experience with orders-in-council during the last war, when they were employed by Ottawa as an unfortunate but necessary means of getting things done in a hurry.

Except by Saskatchewan, though, we've largely been spared this jumping of democracy's ignition system in recent years. Another point to ponder about orders incouncil: when they've served their purpose, they can be swept under the carpet with

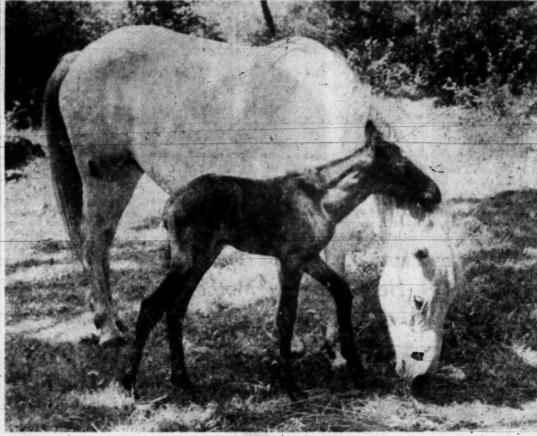

I'm not a professional viewer-with-alarm, just a man who believes (remember Munich?) that one aggression leads to another, with the muzzling of communication media and courts as an ultimate necessity for any cropheaded parliament.

So while I'm still a free-running dog for the capital-eestic press, let me stand to be counted.

I hate compulsion.
I don't believe in Santa
